Microsoft Dynamics AX 2012 for Distribution

MICROSOFT DYNAMICS AX2012

Would you like to have better visibility into your supply chain?

Do you struggle with improving operational costs?

Could you use help identifying market trends?

If you are like most distributors, you are faced with an ever increasing list of requirements for your business, including:

- Satisfying increasingly demanding customers.
- Increasing visibility into your supply chain.
- Improving inventory controls.
- Controlling operational costs.
- Maintaining labor and operations agility.
- Managing vendor relationship.

To stay competitive, you need to improve your ability to predict and respond to changes in end-customer demand. The right technology can help.

THE SOLUTION

Microsoft Dynamics AX ERP has a proven record for distribution and supply chain management. It can deliver visibility into your sales data, inventory levels, and shipment schedules, giving you confidence in your ability to meet customer demands. But that's just a start.

Microsoft Dynamics ERP can also help you:

- Identify emerging customer behavior.
- Better predict future market trends.
- Keep your inventory lean.
- Make smarter buying decisions and decrease costs.
- Negotiate better terms with vendors and suppliers.
- Improve customer relationships.
- Meet sustainability and compliance requirements.
- Better manage risks.

Microsoft Dynamics ERP systems are delivered by a global network of partners with industry expertise.
